FROM LONDON PAPERS.

PAT AND THE TRAVELLER.

A Traveller one day chanced to meet brother Pat,
Come tell me, I pray, whose fine mansion is that?
Arrah honey, says Paddy while scratching his head,
One Patrick Fitzgibbon lives there, but he's dead.
The Traveller, good soul, said to Pat as he sigh'd,
I pray thee how long since the owner has died?
Oh your honor, says Pat in very great sorrow,
He'd be just three weeks dead had he lived till to-morrow!

EXTEMPORE,

On a late unequal match in High Life, as to size, five feet six to three feet three.
Flows not the heart in merry tide,
When such disunion comes in view:
And yet the proverb's on his side—
"The lesser evil of the two."

ON A LADY

Who is said to have beaten her husband.
Come hither, Sir John, see my portrait is here,
Look at it my Love, don't it strike you?
I can't say it does, just at present my dear,
But I dare say it will—tis so like you.

(From the (London) Lady's Museum.)

ANECDOTE.

Every one must allow, that, notwithstanding the extreme modesty of the amiable Thomson, that poet understood, and must have felt, all the force of the tender passion. The following anecdote gives us reason to believe that he drew the charming portrait of Musidora from nature—and indeed from whence could he draw such an enchanting picture, but from the source of perfection? Thomson was on a visit to a friend, with whom at the same time lived a lovely young female relation. The poet's bed-chamber was immediately above that of the young lady, a circumstance which it seems, Thomson was some how or other apprised of. The son of Apollo soon found means to perforate the floor of his room, and through this orifice nightly admired the loveliest of nature's works, drank deep thoughts of inspiration, and, we cannot doubt, raised his pious thoughts from the contemplation of "Nature's works, up to Nature's God."

One night as the unsuspecting nymph was undressing, she heard an unusual noise, and desired her maid to find out the cause. "Oh, madam," cried Betty, "be not alarmed, 'tis only the poet at his hole;—But permit me," continued Betty, "and I will afford you some fun." Betty immediately mounted a chair, and applied the lighted candle to the sacrilegious orifice. The good poet had been, it seems, at his accustomed devotions; and, overcome with love, wine, or fatigue, had unwittingly submitted to the all-powerful commands of the drowsy god. To drop allegory—he was snoring loudly at the before-mentioned hole; but was speedily awakened from his slumbers by the flaming torch of the mischievous Betty, though not till he had got completely rid of the skin of the noisy member that had betrayed his thief profane—"if aught profane to love!" The triumph of Betty and her mistress were complete—and the nose of the unfortunate poet but too loudly proclaimed his disgrace.

THOUGHT.

A habit of serious thinking arms us at all points, and plants security round our virtue, in the moment of great danger, when our minds are careless and unbroken, and most accessible to passion and vice.

PROPERTY.

A woman may be knowing, active, witty, and amusing, but without property she cannot be amiable. Property is the centre in which all the lines of duty and agreeableness meet.

NEW-YORK, Dec. 14.

Spoke off the Bar, the ship Ticnick, Riden, 48 days from New York to Lisbon—the same time saw a large fleet of British transports going in apparently full of troops, and another fleet steering to the southward, in all about 250 sail. October 28, lat. 40, long. 20, spoke ship Young Factor, 38 days from New York for Lisbon, having lost her bowsprit 3 days before in a gale of wind. Nov. 27, lat. 42 30, long. 59, schr. Britannia, from Liverpool for Boston. Dec. 1st, brig Sally Snow, 40 days from Tonninen, for Boston.

Sch'r Experiment, Dety, from St. Petersburg, and 49 days from Cronstadt, with a full cargo of sail cloth, ravens-duck, sheeting, diapers, bristles and iron. Sailed from Cronstadt Oct. 9th, in company with ship Charles, Weeks, of Portland; sch'r Perseverance, Smith, of Providence. The brig Henry, Harris, sailed 2 days before for New York. American vessels left at Cronstadt Oct. 9—Florida, Clunks, of Bath. Cleared, Harriot, Weeks, Portland, loaded; Hesper, Cushing, Newburyport; Merrimac, Bartlett, do. William Gray, Foster, Beverly; Mary, Osgood, Salem; Polly, Graves, Marblehead; Hope, Meeks, Washington; Blachler, do. Sally, Carnes, Boston, loading; Carmelite, Arnold, do; Lucy, Taylor, Kingston; Rambler, De Wolf, Providence; Liberty, Cottle; James, Swaine; Cincinnati, Conklin; Feliz, Relf, Pallas, Richards; Hudson, Bostwick, all for N. Oct. 23, cleared at Elsinor, brig Suasnash, Hanley, from Koningsberg for Baltimore. 20th, passed there sch'r Luna, Mortor, from Baltimore bound to St. Petersburg; ship Concord, Johnson, of New York from Tonninen for St. Petersburg, was detained at Copenhagen. Oct. 25, spoke H. M's sch'r Alexandria, Cochran; told us that a fortnight ago, the sch'r Superior, Forbes, of Baltimore, from St. Petersburg for Baltimore, stranded on the coast of Zealand, was fired upon and took by the Danes, and to prevent her falling into their hands, was set fire to and burnt by this frigate, which carried the crew to Gotternburgh. At Cronstadt, learned the total loss, near Aspo, of the Susan, Eliza and Hibernia, from Port Royal to Petersburg; 5 of the crew and Mr. Erwin, the owner, lost. From Hamburg papers seen at Elsinor, Copenhagen, Mr. Adams is gone on to his further destination. Arrived at Tonninen, Sept. 20, ship Brutus, Marcy; Eliza, Skiddy, Amiable, Thompson, and Amiable Matilda, Graham, from New York; Nonuch, Chase, from Baltimore. Oct. 6, Matilda, Watts, Baltimore.—Nov. 25, on the Grand Banks spoke ship Rousseau, M'Leven, 38 days from Tonninen for Philadelphia. Oct. 27, lost Mr. M'Farlan, seaman, overboard.

Capt. Fenwick, of the United States marine corps, arrived in town yesterday. He goes out in the John Adams ship of war, as bearer of despatches, which vessel will sail the first fair wind for England and Holland. The John Adams has on board 160,000 dollars in specie, being six months interest on the Dutch loan to the United States.

Capt. Dunbar, who arrived here yesterday, sailed from Lisbon on the 2d ult. He informs that a few days previous to his departure, 50 sail of British transports arrived there from England; which, with those that were there made 150 sail. It was reported at Lisbon that 100,000 French troops were on their march to Spain—and that the British troops had evacuated Bilboa.

We had (and we are thankful) several valuable arrivals yesterday, some of which have been long expected, viz. the Egeria from Archangel; the Citizen from Tonningen; and the Enterprise from Gotternburgh, all with full and valuable cargoes. The British October packet is also an acceptable arrival in these non-intercourse times.

Colonel Burr is reported to have arrived at Philadelphia. We think this must be incorrect; for in one of the London papers received yesterday, we find this article:

GOTTERBORG, October 16.—The American colonel Burr returned from Stockholm about a month ago, and left this yesterday for Copenhagen, which place he will leave as soon as he has obtained a pass to proceed to Paris. During his stay here, he lived in the most recluse way, and his appearance is very dejected.

The London Statesman of the 2d ultimo, contains the proceedings of the French conservative Senate, on the 3d of October, consisting of an address of the arch-chancellor of the empire, and a report made to the emperor by the minister of war, September 15, previous to the peace with Austria. One passage in this document deserves notice; after speaking of a previous determination to assemble in the interior of France, whatever might be the complexion of affairs, the youth of France; it is added, that "The temporary derelection of this system would be productive of some danger to the empire," &c.

The minister of war further observes, that "The English ministers who preceded the members of the present government, (a more able set of men than the latter), were convinced, that every serious attempt on the continent, on the part of the English, is a step towards a general Peace."  "Every man of good sense may predict a general peace to be near at hand, if the English persist in a continental contest."

Late from England.

By the ship Gosport, Robinson, in 32 days from Hull, the editor of the Mercantile Advertiser has received a file of London papers to the evening of the 4th of November, from which the following articles are extracted.

On the 14th of November, in lat. 47, 40, long. 27, 30, the Gosport was boarded by an officer from the British frigate Africane, which had on board Mr. Erskine, late British minister.

LONDON, November 3.

We this day received Paris papers to the 20th, Dutch papers to the 29, Spanish papers to the 20th, and Portuguese papers to the 24th of October, of which we have given copious extracts.

Lord Wellington, it will be seen was at Lisbon on the 23d, but was about to join the army, and a Russian man of war has been burnt at Lisbon. Gerona still holds out.

November 4.

From the extensive coast of the Peninsula, vessels arrive almost daily. From Gijon we learn that Asturias and Gallacia, enjoy a temporary tranquility by the absence of the enemy. From Portugal, we lament to say, letters concur in stating, that by the sword, by famine, and by disease, that army which left England in such gallant gay array, is reduced to fewer than 12,000 effective men. It is now impossible to doubt the evacuation of a country which has been the grave of two of the finest armies that ever left the British shores.

From Walcheren the advices are if possible, still less favorable. Disease is confidently asserted to resist the utmost of medical science and practical skill, in that mephitic swamp. Whilst our force is thus hourly diminishing in that deadly place, Napoleon is making rigorous preparations to attack the Island. Of inquiry into the causes of the failure of the Antwerp expedition, we now hear not one word. The late commander has a seat in the council board, and is understood to enjoy the especial favor and protection of his majesty, who as report says, is satisfied with the written statement of that noble commander. Whether his majesty has also received that of the gallant sir Richard Strachan, we know not. In many cases, to have the last word is highly important; but it may be apprehended, that in the present instance the first word, like the first blow in a battle has the best chance.

An order in council for continuing the restriction upon distilling spirits from grain, and allowing it from sugar, till six weeks after the meeting of parliament, will appear in the next Gazette.

LISBON, October 15.

On the 19th instant, a fleet of transports arrived from England, with artillery, ammunition and clothing, and about 100 troops, to join the broken regiments.

Lord Wellington is still here, but we are in daily expectation of his setting out to join the army.

A few nights since one of the Russian line of battle ships, a seventy toner, that remained here on account of her not being able to go to England with the others, was fired. After she parted from her mooring, she floated for some distance down the river, and excited considerable alarm for the safety of the shipping; she was, however, towed on shore, and burnt without doing any damage. The people who were on board were all got out, and we have not heard of any lives being lost. The scene exhibited by the flames rushing out of the port hole and the three columns of fire extending to the top of the masts, was grand beyond description. Several of her guns were loaded with powder, and went off as the fire reached them.

TRUXILLO, October 15.

Soult is at Talavera de la Reyua, with 6000 men, and 4000 more are distributed between Valdeacida and the bridge of Arzobiplo, which serve as a corps of observation.

The French in Madrid continue to send to Bayonne the principal persons of character who have any influence with the people.

Lisbon Dairy, October 23.

The head quarters are at Dayrell, and our troops and those of the enemy in the same position.

Despatches were received from marquis Wellesley yesterday, dated October 16.—His lordship, unable to resist the temptation of the "Loaves and Fishes," was preparing to embark for England.

September 30.

The head quarters are at Dayrell, and our troops and those of the enemy in the same position.

The happy tidings was announced here this morning by a discharge of 100 pieces of cannon, and last night published in all the theatres. At the opera houses, the Trojan was given, and when the actress who performed Paulina pronounced the verse—

PARIS, October 15.

We are assured that her majesty the empress has received a telegraphic dispatch announcing the conclusion of peace with Austria on the 14th of October, the anniversary of the battle of Jena.

October 21.

The intelligence of the conclusion of peace with Austria having reached Versailles on the 18th at night, the whole town was illuminated.

The happy tidings was announced here this morning by a discharge of 100 pieces of cannon, and last night published in all the theatres. At the opera houses, the Trojan was given, and when the actress who performed Paulina pronounced the verse—

"Romans, c'est un Cesar qui il faut entendre grace."

"Romans, it is to Cesar that thanks ought to be returned for it."

the whole house rang with peals of applause and repeated shouts of "Long live the emperor."

October 23.

His imperial majesty has left Schoenbrunn, attended by the duke of Bressieres, Frioul, and Rivigo, and other gentlemen of distinction. The imperial horse guards precede his majesty on his journey through Upper Austria and Bavaria.

October 25.

An article from Antwerp, after describing the rejoicings which had taken place in that city, on account of the conclusion of peace between Austria and France, states, under date of October 23, "We are this moment informed, that his imperial and royal majesty will arrive within a few days in our city; his excellency the minister of marine is just arrived."

BAYONNE, October 19.

The day before yesterday arrived in this place 200 draft horses, belonging to the imperial mews. We understand that several corps of troops will shortly pass through this town, on their march to Spain. A great number of them have already reached Angouleme.

Marshal Ney, duke of Elchingen, is shortly expected here from Spain.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 20.

The fortress of Ismail continues to be closely blocked by our troops, under the orders of gen. Wauw.

number of horses were purchased in Kentucky, ostensibly for the public, were fed and transported to New Orleans at the expense of the public, and sold to the public at a price far exceeding their real cost or real value. The receipts of the payment for these horses are signed by one Frederick Cohagen, formerly an ostler at Stelle's Hotel in this city, a man not worth a cent.—
The circumstance of Cohagen's being known here is the only one which led to the detection of this abominable imposition.—
No wonder the general fell sick on the way to this city. (Ibid.)

Captain Gilpatrick, of schr. Catharine, arrived at Charleston from St. Kitts, reports the following gallant exploit: "The brig William, capt. Sam. M'Lellan, sailed from Martinico on the 8th of Oct. with a cargo of molasses, for Portland (M.) was immediately after captured by a French privateer schr, having six 4 pounders, who put five men on board of the brig, and took out all but the captain and a boy. On the 11th of October, capt. M'L. and boy retook the brig, and carried her into St.
Kitts."

PHILADELPHIA, December 15.
We present to our readers to-day, a stock of foreign news, received at New-York, by the ship Eliza-Ann, Capt. Porter, in 34 days from Dublin.

We have also received by the Jane, arrived at this port in 35 days from Liverpool, our regular files of the Courier, Traveller and Times, to the 2d November inclusive.

Both houses of parliament met on the 2d November, and were further prorogued till the 12th December.

The present British ministry appear to be tottering. They will probably not hold their places longer than till the meeting of parliament. A ministerial paper admits that the materials of which the cabinet is composed is not what it ought to be, and blames lords Grenville and Grey for not accepting a share in the administration; while the Times of Nov. 2, says,

"So much embarrassed were ministers to recruit their ranks, that before lord Palmerston accepted the office of secretary at war, was actually offered to Mr. Milnes, who declined it. It is even said, that a proposition was afterwards made to the same gentleman to accept the office of chancellor of the exchequer!! The appointment of Mr. Manners to the office of judge-advocate has created no little surprise in the political circles. Lord Lowther's & lord Palmerston's have excited equal astonishment."

Captain Garwood, of the Jane, informs, that he sailed on the 6th Nov. on which day there were rejoicings in England, in consequence of some news received from the continent. Henry Izard, Esquire, of S. Carolina came passenger in the Jane.

Congress of the United States.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, December 18.

[Taken for the Alexandria Gazette.]

A message from the secretary of the treasury, covering a report made in compliance with a requisition of the house of the first instant, respecting the settlers of Madison county in the territory of Mississippi.

On motion of Mr. Poindexter, referred to the committee to whom was referred the petitions of several of the inhabitants of the aforesaid county.

Mr. Key and Mr. Goldsborough had leave of absence for two weeks.

A bill for the relief of Josiah H. Webb, was read twice and referred to a committee of the whole house to-morrow.

Mr. M'Kim called up his resolutions, laid on the table a few days since. Adopted.

The resolutions are in the following words:

Resolved, That the committee of commerce and manufactures, be instructed to enquire into the expediency of prohibiting, by law, the importation in foreign ships or vessels, of all goods, wares and merchandise, not of the growth, produce or manufacture of the country to which the ship belongs, excepting in the ships of such countries, as by permanent regulation, permit our ships or vessels, as freely and beneficially as their own, to import into their ports and territories, the produce and manufactures of foreign countries.

Resolved, That the committee of commerce and manufactures, be instructed to inquire into the expediency of laying an additional import duty on distilled spirits imported in foreign ships or vessels from ports or countries, in which American vessels are not permitted by permanent regulation, to a fair participation in such trade, and that the committee have leave to report on these resolutions, by bill or otherwise.

Several resolutions of a local nature were presented and referred.

Mr. Fisk reported a bill providing for taking the third census of the United States.

Mr. Troup called up his resolutions for printing certain documents respecting the Yazoo lands.

Mr. Bacon proposed an amendment which went to print a number of papers not enumerated in Mr. Troup's resolutions, among them was the law passed by the state of Georgia granting the Yazoo lands, which law, it is said, was burnt (not by the hands of the public hangman, we presume).

Mr. Troup opposed the printing this paper, as he considered the printing it would be an insult to the state of Georgia. On the question shall the said law be printed, it was lost, 46 voting for it and 56 against it.

On the question shall the other documents be printed it was carried, 57 to 23.

Mr. Poindexter offered a resolution to call on the secretary of the treasury for a copy of British patents and other documents which may be in his possession, respecting the lands in the Mississippi territory south of the Tennessee. Adopted.

Mr. Love presented the petition of Daniel Carroll and others, praying for a charter for a bank lately established by them in the City of Washington. Referred to the committee on the affairs of the District of Columbia.

Mr. Sheffey called up his resolutions again, respecting the Batture at N. Orleans. Referred to a committee of the whole on Friday next.

Mr. Rhea (Ten.) called for the order of the day on the joint resolutions from the Senate, respecting the affront said to be given to our government by Mr. Jackson, late Minister from the British King near our government.

the information wanted, yet he was ready to consent to the rising of the committee. Mr. Gardiner rose, but before he had proceeded to his observations, a message from the President was announced. The committee then rose, the speaker resumed the chair, and the message was read. It covered the very information required, viz. extracts from unofficial correspondence between Mr. Pinkney and Mr. Canning.

The message and documents were ordered to be printed.

Mr. Smilie moved that the house now go into committee of the whole on the resolutions from the senate. Negatived.

Adjourned.

SEVEN DAYS LATER FROM ENGLAND.

The ship William, Moran, from London & 28 days from the Downs, has arrived at New York, bringing London dates to the 11th Nov. The treaty between France and Austria is received. A Mr. Hartshorn, passenger, is bearer of despatches from Mr. Pinkney to the secretary of state. Two letter bags out of three, containing about 2000 letters, was taken out of the William at Gravesend, by a revenue officer, and sent to the general post office in London, assigning as a reason that they were unsealed, which was contrary to law. He left a certificate of the act. The Grenville party is expected to come into the ministry after the next meeting of parliament. A general convocation of all the Italian cardinals is to take place in Paris in November. A large French convoy from Toulon bound to Barcelona has been destroyed by the English—a 90 and an 80 gun ship & frigate were run ashore, the two former blown up to prevent their falling into the enemy's hands. Bonaparte had held a council at Fountainbleau on the 27th October. An expedition has sailed from Malta, destination conjectural. The property of general Monnier who commanded at Flushing when it surrendered to the English has been sequestered. Prince Gorgali, aid-de-camp of the emperor of Russia, has arrived at Paris.—The London Times of Nov. 8, says that Ferdinand VII. has been poisoned. Charles IV. his consort and the Prince of Peace are at Marseilles, reported to be living on the bounty of friends. Bonaparte is to make his triumphal entry into Paris Dec. 2. A letter from a certain Wm. Cox to the governor of Oporto, dated Alemeida, Oct. 24, stating that the duke Del Parque had an engagement with the French troops commanded by gen. Marchand, who had advanced from Salamanca. The battle was said to be fought at Tamames or its vicinity, and terminated in favor of the Spaniards, who lost only 150 men, while the loss of the French in killed and wounded is said to be 1000 men, a 12 pounder, one stand of colors and 300 muskets. The French force by report, 40,000 infantry, 12,000 cavalry and 9 pieces of artillery.

NO RELIEF NO PAY.

This motto may be deemed ostentatious by some, and amounting to a positiveness that the medicine will invariably effect a cure in any stage of a disease like a miracle; the proprietor is far from believing that this medicine will render mankind immortal; but he is fully sensible if taken seasonably, and according to the directions, it will either prevent or cure, and if unseasonably, it will most sensibly alleviate distress and prolong life; and having no desire to profit by the confidence of the sick and afflicted, induces me to make the above overture. Should the contrasibly may, the money for the medicine will be cheerfully refunded by the person who

GEORGE ROGERS.

N. B. The above named medicine is secured to the subscriber by letters patent from the President of the United States, and prepared at his Dispensary in Northampton county of Hampshire and state of Massachusetts.

To the Public.

The great benefit which I have experienced from Rogers's Vegetable, &c. and a firm persuasion that it may afford relief to others, induces me to make every laudable exertion
for its distribution.

For five years preceding the last of Dec.
1807, in consequence of taking a violent cold
I had been afflicted with the asthma, a disorder which I conceived to be hereditary, my father and grand father both having greatly suffered from it. The disorder increasing rapidly upon me, in the spring of 1807, I consulted Dr. C. L. Seeger, but the urgency of his business prevented him from attending at that time, particularly to my case. My business made it necessary for me to leave home
and be absent the greater part of summer, which deprived me of the able professional assistance of Dr. Seeger. In September last, a severe cold brought on a violent cough and the disorder assumed an aspect more serious and alarming than at any former period—I was extremely debilitated, emaciated and confined. Such was the irritability of my lungs I was obliged to use the greatest caution in the act of respiration. After a free use of Rogers's Vegetable, &c. for about two months
I was perfectly relieved of the dreadful cough which had so long afflicted me, and completely cured of every symptom of the asthma—a short, blessed be God, I have continued in sound health ever since. As these facts may be important to those unfortunate individuals who are suffering from the same disorder, I have been thus particular in their detail.—
And I do not hesitate to declare my solemn conviction, both from my own experience and observing its effects on others, that Dr. Rogers's V. P. D. is an easy, safe and effectual remedy for coughs and asthma, and is the greatest antidote to all pulmonic complaints that the world has ever witnessed.

Jacob W. Brewster.

Northampton, January, 1809.

THIS may certify, that about the first of October last, I was attacked with a violent cough, which proceeded, as was the opinion of my physician, who is a man well approved of in his profession, from a bruise which I
